

Home Learning for Bears WC 20th April 2020

Dear Families,

We hope you have all had a chance to relax a little over the school Easter Holidays and enjoy spending time with your families. We are continuing our home learning suggestions in the same format this week, and you will find some useful links included this week.

We have continued to add videos and useful links to our eSchools pages, so please do access these to complement the home learning ideas found on the website. A few other useful suggestions are detailed below:

* Bocketts Farm have live updates of their lambing season on their Facebook page most mornings.

* Orchard Toys have created some games and activity sheets

https://www.orchardtoys.com/dept/activity-sheets_d0129.htm

* Remember to continue using your phonics cards and number cards from your book bags too.

Finally, a message for the grown ups. We know that these are unprecedented times and that many of you are juggling work and children in what is a difficult time for all. We know that some days home learning will not be possible or that your children may not be keen. Whatever they are up to, there will be learning taking place - even if they are at the bottom of the garden in their PJs or spending a little extra time with CBeebies. (Mrs King's boys have not got dressed for 72 hours!) You lend us your children every day in term-time, and we love them like our own. But they are awesome because of you and all that you do, so please, for now, just keep on keeping on. This too shall pass and better days are coming.

With all best wishes to you all,

The Bears Team
